JOEL E. FERRIS
HIGH SCHOOL
SPOKANE, WASH.

*As the courtyard is the hub of our school,
Spokane is the center of the Inland Empire... our lives revolve around them, each turn providing a new dimension of life.*

Crowded buses ease to a halt, students scatter and a new day begins. With good mornings exchanged, a yawn stifled and the bulletin read. . . Saxons embark on heated debates in the history department, voice their opinions on controversial authors and wonder what's for lunch.

...as evening approaches, sports and club activities draw to a close. Silhouetted figures begin the journey home and stillness settles over the campus.

Tension builds during pep convocations...

campaigns and signs promote Saxon victory.

What starts as individual support becomes team effort. A whistle blows... two teams clash...

in the background are chants of victory, victory, we want victory.

*Each school has something unique... something to remember. Whimsical satires in precast concrete were made by local artist Harold Balazs Jr. to represent man and machine. "No more, no less--their distortions, fun and disappointments." In the science court the stainless steel sculpture is an idea... "Each day or year it may change or form a symbol for one to hold." The auditorium foyer contains truisms to "enjoy in their color, spacing and meaning; for one to hesitate, ponder and to reflect; to capture a meaning for just one's self."

We've got a team,
There's nobody prouder. . .

Leading pep rallies, Ferris cheerleaders aroused spirit and helped stimulate team participation. In the Ferris "F" formation are Carol Dehner, head football cheerleader, Sue Brunner, Cathy Matters, Debbie Schoch, Patty Johnson, head basketball cheerleader, Patty Forbes and Sue Stewart.

Vivacious, enthusiastic, devoted... Valkyrs sold tickets, marched at half time and represented Ferris in the Lilac Parade. They also Christmas-caroled for nursing homes, sponsored the Shillelagh Shuffle and the fund raising dinner and presented their spring convocation. Megan Breen, drill master, and assistant Sheryl Murphy led routines.

Yell louder. . louder.

Mr. Arthur A. Blauert: Principal.

Mr. Blauert tells of Ferris opportunities.

"As the school year draws to an end, we find the students of Joel E. Ferris High School expressing mixed emotions. Our graduating seniors have come to a cross-road and are making many important decisions concerning their future and what path to take. Shall I go to college, follow a trade or a profession? In America the opportunities are here. I would like to again emphasize that Joel E. Ferris High School is dedicated to helping students gain leadership qualities. You undergraduates have this choice also. Joel E. Ferris High School is unique in the opportunities it has for its students. I would urge you to use them wisely."

Dr. Harry O. Finnegan: Vice-Principal.

Guides to the pathway of success. . .

Mrs. Mabel McLaughlin: Coordinotor of Humanities, Senior English.

Mr. H. M. Louderback: Coordinator of Science.

Joel E. Ferris High School has been selected as one of the original 12 pilot schools throughout the United States to participate in IDEA, a Charles F. Kettering Foundation project. IDEA stands for Institute for the Development of Educational Activities. It has been organized for the primary purpose of stimulating the development, evaluation, and dissemination of various means for improving rationality and efficiency in American education. Dr. Norval Scott is director of research and Mr. Morris Pixley is director of dissemination. These people are members of the faculty and will administer the Ferris portion of IDEA. Plans are currently underway to expand to 36 demonstration schools and 50 more participating schools.

Mr. Morris Pixley: Disseminator of IDEA.

Dr. Norval Scott: Director of IDEA.

Mrs. Lois Livingston: Secretary.

Counselors advise students.

Counselors support teachers in their roll of helping students to learn effectively. They are prepared to help the students discover and develop their learning potential and capacity for self-direction. Counselors have information about such things in your future as vocational plans, colleges, technical schools and military obligations. Members of the counseling staff work with various school organizations: League of Dresden, Court of Carmine and Associated Student Body.

Mr. Erling Hjortedol: Dean of Students.

Mr. James Hordemonn: Counselor.

Mr. Alfred Dahlberg: Data Processing, Mothemotics.

Mrs. Joyce Daschbach: Counselor.

Mrs. June Nilson: Counselor.

Communication is vital today.

Mr. Stan Maare: English V & VI.

Mrs. Lois Neswick: Senior English
Mrs. Julie Shelby: Senior English

Communication, one of man's foremost achievements, is a living and necessary part of every individual's life. Conveying thoughts through writing or speaking has become a vital part of our society. Getting our ideas across to others is a challenge that must be met if the understanding of other races as of our own is to be. The study of grammar, literature, oral and written composition is part of the preparation for this communication.

Mr. Robert Burkhart: 9th Grade Social Studies.

Mr. Perry Sanders: World History.

Mr. John Kingsland: U.S. History

History is . . . "in essence a history of ideas," said H. G. Wells . . . "none other than the progress of the consciousness of freedom," according to George Hegel. History is all of this and more. It is a kaleidoscope of wars and rebellions. Empires rise and fall to dust, men and nations are born and in due time pass away. History records it all. The new and the old are brought together before the eyes of the historian and he sees new cultures arising from the wreckage of the battle. History cannot predict the future but it carefully records the alternatives that men have tried before, thus laying a foundation for a wise choice of more alternatives in the future. History is one of the solid grounds of learning. It changes and it adds new things, but in an orderly, meaningful way. History builds a firm footing for man's rainbow bridge to the stars.

Mr. Bob Johnson: Mathematics.

Mr. Mack Saunders: Mathematics

Mr. Gilbert Baker: Mathematics.

Mr. Bill Lawther: Mathematics.

Mr. Allen Fischer: Mathematics.

Mathematics has been a part of society since the beginning of recorded time. Theories developed centuries ago are being used in calculating complex mathematical problems of today. New fields, never dreamed of a hundred years ago, are now being explored with the help of mathematics. Math has opened the door to areas of research, has enabled man to journey into outer space and to probe the mysteries of our galaxie and universe.

Science searches for truth.

Mr. Jim Speer: Biology.

Scientists are constantly searching and discovering answers to problems that have puzzled man since the beginning. Solutions to these problems are stepping stones in the unexplored horizons of scientific knowledge. Man's understanding of himself and the world has been broadened by discoveries made by people such as Harold Urey, Albert Einstein and Linus Pauling. Man's quest for knowledge leads him in the infiniteness of space and into the microcosm of the atom. This unending search for truth is proceeding at dimensions almost incomprehensible. Ninety percent of all new knowledge is scientific and ninety percent of all the scientists who have ever lived are still alive today. The search for truth is a never ending quest; each problem answered opens the door to new questions.

Mr. Terry Anderson: Mathematics-Physical Science.

Mr. Edward Steever: Physics.

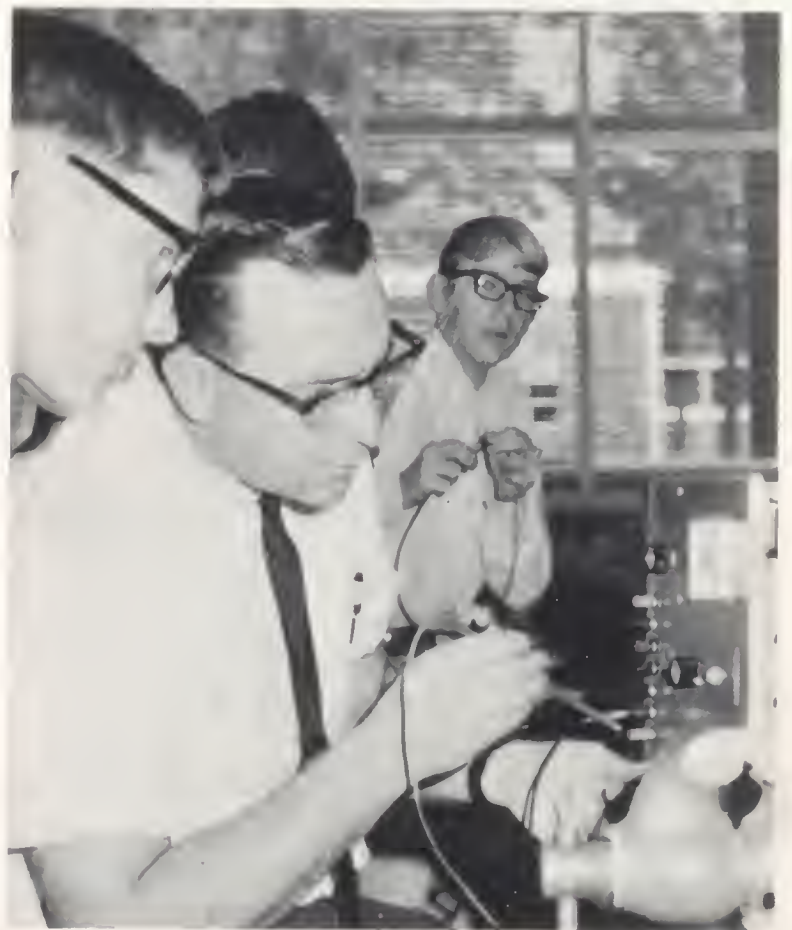

Mr. Glenn Starr: Industrial Arts.

Mr. Frank Bieker: Industrial Arts.

Mr. Wendell Allen: Industrial Arts.

Mr. Ronald Fink: Industrial Arts.

Practical arts develop skills.

Mrs. Opal Wetherell: Home Economics.

Mrs. Peggy Springer: Home Economics.

Miss Pat Ruder: Home Economics-Journalism, Soxon Chronicles & Exeter.

Industrial arts is designed to help prepare individuals living in a technological culture. There are five specific areas in industrial arts--woods, metals, power mechanics, drafting and electronics. Each of these areas assists the student in his every day life as well as prepare him for mechanics, technical or engineering occupations. Industrial arts helps build self-reliance, sound judgment and resourcefulness through problem solving and expression in an industrially oriented environment.

Home Economics is concerned with training girls for being career women, wives and mothers of tomorrow. Traditionally home economics has embraced instruction in various areas in the home such as child development, clothing, foods and nutrition, housing and family relations. Perhaps the area of greatest concern presently is the instability of the family unit. Real concern for the understanding of the importance of satisfactory human relations is uppermost in the whole area of home economics. As tomorrow becomes yesterday, society will likely be only as stable as students now in school are able to make wise choices and find happy solutions to problems.

Mr. Kent Varty: Art.

Mr. Larry Hagen: Choral Music.

Mr. Walter Zollars: Art.

Mr. Wayne Summers: Instrumental Music.

Music and Art have been society's spokesmen since the beginning of time. The composer and the artist express and recreate moods and feelings of the period in which they live. Complete histories of eras can be re-lived in a musical composition or painting. Music and Art continue to tell and retell man's story.

Language is a bridge. . .

Language is a bridge between the past and the present. It aids in understanding people and customs. Seeing the problems of people of other countries through their eyes can be accomplished when language ceases to be a barrier. Language becomes the key to understanding the cultures and behavior of all people of the world. The study of German, French, Spanish and Latin will help promote this understanding.

Mrs. Arlene Baldwin: Spanish I-French IV.

Miss Lillian Brown: Dramatics, Latin.

Mr. Ron Merrill: Spanish I, II, III, V.

Mrs. Barbara Bates: French II, III & IV-German III.

Miss Retta Walker: German I, II.

Mr. Richard Guthrie: Boys' Physical Education.

Sports have been a part of man's society for hundreds of centuries. Early civilizations used sports for the conditioning and survival training of its warriors. As history advanced so did sports. There are basically two types of sports, individual and team. Each player has a responsibility to the team to carry his share. The success of the individual participant depends on the effort put forth by that individual. Sports is more than a developer of the body, it is a builder of character and responsibility.

Mr. Melvin Schmidt: Boys' Physical Education.

Mr. Dove Morton: Boys' Physical Education.

Mrs. Beth Show: Girls' Physical Education.

Mrs. Koren Bossart: Girls' Physical Education.

Miss Nancy Halverson: Business Education.

We are business oriented.

The United States has become a nation of business. One out of every four Americans is employed in some field of business. Today more positions are available in business, for both men and women, than in any other occupation. Automation has created many new titles, greater responsibilities and higher salaries for those workers in the business field who have had qualified training. A business education can be used by the college bound student to help finance a college education.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million (19.5% of the population).

There are a number of reasons why the number of people aged 65 and over has increased. One of the main reasons is that people are living longer. The life expectancy at birth in the UK is now 77 years for men and 81 years for women.

Another reason is that people are having children later in life. This means that there are more people in the 65-74 age group than there were in the 1970s.

There are also a number of reasons why the number of people aged 65 and over is expected to increase in the future. One of the main reasons is that people are living even longer.

FALL OFFICERS: Andy James, president; Sue Brunner, treasurer; Jan Hines, secretary; Tricio Dibblee, historian; Dan Stork, vice-president.

President Andy James, assisted by Dan Stark, vice-president; Jan Hines, secretary; Sue Brunner, treasurer and Tricia Dibblee, historian, started the wheels moving for the 1966 fall semester. The convocation, "Knight Life" dance, along with the selection of the friendliest girl and boy from each class, completed the Saxon Week activities. The main project for the fall semester, headed by Greg Triplett, was designing an illuminated sign for the entrance. The service project for the year was the contribution of $650 for a Good Ship Hope ambulance. Shelby Gates and Cathy Wiseman were Ferris' entrants in the All-City talent convocation. Rounding out the semester was a Christmas reception for last year's graduating seniors.

The annual Saxon Week convocation helped to spur enthusiasm in the Ferris students.

Joe Peterson, Greg Triplett and Carolyn Green work on plans for the illuminated sign for the school entrance.

Officers paint in spring semester.

Spring semester started Feb. 1 as the newly-elected spring officers were installed. President Bill Funnell and his officers Bruce Cromwell, vice-president; Kathy Oiland, secretary; Iris Klobusicky, treasurer and Julie Berg, historian, started planning activities for spring. The student body worked on fund raising projects for the March of Dimes and Easter Seal Drive and sponsored a clothing drive for Eastern State Hospital. The main semester project was the Inaugural Ball on March 10 at the Davenport Hotel. Jerry Crick, general chairman, along with the other committee chairmen, worked to make the dance a success. The ASB took on school improvement projects this semester. Painting the portable and improving the landscape, along with the addition of trophy cases highlighted the program. Through correspondence with other state schools and by attending leadership conferences the officers found Ferris is used as a model school.

FALL OFFICERS: Janis Miller, treasurer; Wendy Warrick, sergeant-at-arms; Marge Herbert, vice-president; Gail McLaughlin, president; Cheri Eubanks, historian; Anne Bacon, secretary.

Fall semester the League of Dresden kept in tune with many fun-filled activities. President Gail McLaughlin and her officers Marge Herbert, vice-president; Anne Bacon, secretary; Janis Miller, treasurer; Cheri Eubanks, historian and Wendy Warrick, sergeant-at-arms, started the year with the Big and Little Sister Party and the following week's activities. The auction "Where The Auction Is" was a successful project earning $125 for the League. In November the annual Dad-Daughter Dessert was given with the theme "The Modernization of Daddy." The selection of an outstanding girl from each department began a new tradition, "Girl of the Month." The girls participated in two service projects. Two hundred Spokane men in Vietnam received letters and Christmas cards from Ferris girls. Children in Deaconess and Sacred Heart hospitals were entertained with a Christmas skit put on by the League officers and representatives. The League added $130 to its treasury with a flower sale in November. Ending a successful semester they co-sponsored a Christmas dance with Court of Carmine called "Deck the Halls."

SPRING OFFICERS: Katie Wells, historian; Kathy L. Moson, treasurer; Jan Dogman, president; Wendy Heath, vice-president; Candy Sofronek, secretary; Laurel Prater, sergeant-at-arms.

The election and candlelight installation began the spring semester of League of Dresden. New officers were Jan Dagman, president; Wendy Heath, vice-president; Candy Safranek, secretary; Katie Wells, historian; Kathy L. Mason, treasurer and Laurel Prater, sergeant-at-arms. The first project was making valentines for each League member and for Girls' Federations of other city schools. A point system was begun this year. These points are earned by doing various activities in the League. In March a kite-flying contest was sponsored by the League challenging anyone. A new tradition was added to Cotton Day with a convocation, dance and spring style show. The Mother-Daughter Tea in May ended spring activities.

Courtesy Girls, a branch of the League of Dresden, are Ferris' hostesses. Seen in their pink suits and seated at the courtesy desk, the girls acted as guides, collected fees and gave information to visitors and new students. The girls' main purpose is to usher at all school functions. Officers for the fall semester were Becky Eaton, chairman; Suzanne Crawford, vice-chairman and Lory McLellan, recorder. The main projects of the organization were to sponsor the Big and Little Sister Party and make Christmas aprons for the League advisors. Taking over offices for spring semester were June Olson, chairman; Carolyn Green, vice-chairman and Mary Ross, recorder.

Judy Johns and Gail McLaughlin were last year's representatives from Ferris to Girls' State. The conference at Central Washington State College in Ellensburg lasted seven days. Girls representing every state school learned how to run their own government for city, county and state levels.

The Orientation Convocation, for new Ferris boys, started the 1966 fall term of the Court of Carmine. Boys' Federation, led by Jack Nelson and Dan Stark, had a fulfilling year with many activities. The "Gator," the co-sponsored "Deck the Halls" in the 400 building and the creation of the Spirit Committee brought action to Ferris. The second annual car rally served as a test of teen driving ability and skill. Speaking of cars, there was one for sale! This and many other items to be sold were listed on the newly-established Barter Board. In addition, the Boys' Federation provided the baseball team with the needed permanent benches.

Fall semester officers were Jack Nelson, president, Pete Dix, treasurer, Bruce Cromwell, secretary. Not pictured is Bill McGowan, vice-president.

The Red Cross Club, whose main purpose is to devote time to visiting and entertaining the patients at Lakeland Village and Eastern State Hospital, found many projects to keep them busy throughout the year. To raise money, the club held a car rally and a bake sale. During the holiday season they had a Christmas tree hunt and a toy drive. Heading the club are president, Bill McGowan; vice-president, Nancy Krakenberg; secretary, Jan Dagman; treasurer, Wendy Heath, and sergeant-at-arms, Rob Huneke.

Aleuin Chapter of the Future Teachers of America is an organization for students interested in teaching. To become a member a student must have attended one semester of high school and be able to maintain a 2.5 grade point average. The National Education Association aids them in planning their programs by providing reading material about education and teaching. In addition to this, the club employs guest speakers. Assisting teachers at Adams Grade School and Ferris, future teachers are acquainted with various aspects of teaching. District and regional conferences are held during the year at area colleges to add to the F.T.A. school program.

Booklanders could best be described as a service group. This group of students spends free time in the library helping students and faculty. Booklanders are a necessary part of library life.

Distributive Education Clubs of America is a group formed for developing future leaders interested in marketing and industry. With Mr. Kirby, club advisor, and Bill McGowan, president, the club is fulfilling their purpose. Club participation began this year by taking a field trip to a local department store. They also prepared a display case to promote Distributive Education. The club had many money raising projects which included selling toothbrushes and calendars and having a bake sale and a morning dance. Mr. Kirby and Bill McGowan attended the Governor's Conference where Bill was elected President of State D.E.C.A. Several students also attended the State Leadership Conference. The members of Distributive Education Clubs of America are becoming leaders in the business world.

LIVELY ARTS- Kathy L. Masan, Drexì Cox, Mrs. Kick, Miss Weathers, Elizabeth Craven, Dick Reed, Camille Erickson, Bill Elstan, Suzanne Crawford.

Lively Arts Club is a newly organized group at Ferris this year. Under the supervision of the club advisor, Miss Weathers, Lively Arts is achieving their purpose, which is to generate an interest in the humanities. Club activities include attending lectures, plays, art exhibitions, debates and movies. After attending one of the above the members hold a panel discussion where they discuss what they saw and want to see in the future. In doing this they hope to instill an appreciation of the humanities.

Idylls of Wodnis is the Creative Writing Club. The purpose of Idylls of Wodnis is to encourage writing in the school and to instill a willingness to share and contribute to the literary field. By constructive criticism the organization hopes to create an interest and desire for good writing material. This year the club edited a literary magazine of contributions from students and faculty. Idylls of Wodnis is a growing and interesting club.

Something different this year when it comes to languages is the International Club. This club was founded with the help of Mrs. Retta Nickell for all German, Spanish and French language students. Both their International dinner and Christmas party were successful. At these gatherings the students exchanged cultural ideas. The club also had speakers with knowledgeable backgrounds of several countries to add to their appreciation of the languages.

There are many good reasons one should join Latin Club. Students give frequent reports to help each other obtain a background in classics. Reports of what? EVERYTHING! From ancient cultures and odd legends that exist today to panning gold. At Christmas time the Latin Club celebrates Saturnalia. It is a Roman Holiday in honor of the god Saturn. This holiday corresponds with our Christmas. How do you join Latin Club? You must have two or more years of Latin. This year the club received its bronze membership pins. If you want to join an interesting and fun club join Latin Club.

The varied proceedings of Latin Club meetings draw several Saxon scholars.

Y-teens is a group of Junior and Senior high school girls who are members of the Y. W. C. A. The club aims to strengthen a fellowship of young women and to have them realize the ideals of personal and social living to which they are committed by their faith as Christians. Adelphi-Y Chapter is new to Ferris. However with the assistance of the club advisor Mrs. Shelby, Y-teens are off to a great start. As a service project, the club sponsored an Easter egg hunt for a state orphanage. They also took part in city and state conferences and had many money raising projects. By participating in these activities the girls hope to acquire knowledge and understanding of how to be better citizens in our society.

Skating is among the top ranking and fastest growing sports of the day. Some Saxons teach, some race and some ski for pleasure. Skating is enjoyed by all of its participants.

Six o'clock comes early but for Ev Coulter, Kirk David, Nancy Huffard and Patty Nishimura the wonderful sensation that comes from skiing is worth it all.

School spirit spurs Saxons.

The Charions, seen at every game, cheer the Saxans on to victory. Selling tickets to games and fight flowers are among their activities. The club meets every Tuesday morning with faculty advisers Miss Taribara and Miss Dilling. They also had a card section at some of the football games last fall.

Saxan Thanos sponsored a basketball game between Ferris and Libby faculties.

The Spirit Committee was organized to encourage and maintain school spirit. New to Ferris this year, it is headed by Rager Feldman and Jerry Crick. More enthusiasm had been shown at pep cans and games due to their efforts. Many of the fight signs in the halls are made by this organization.

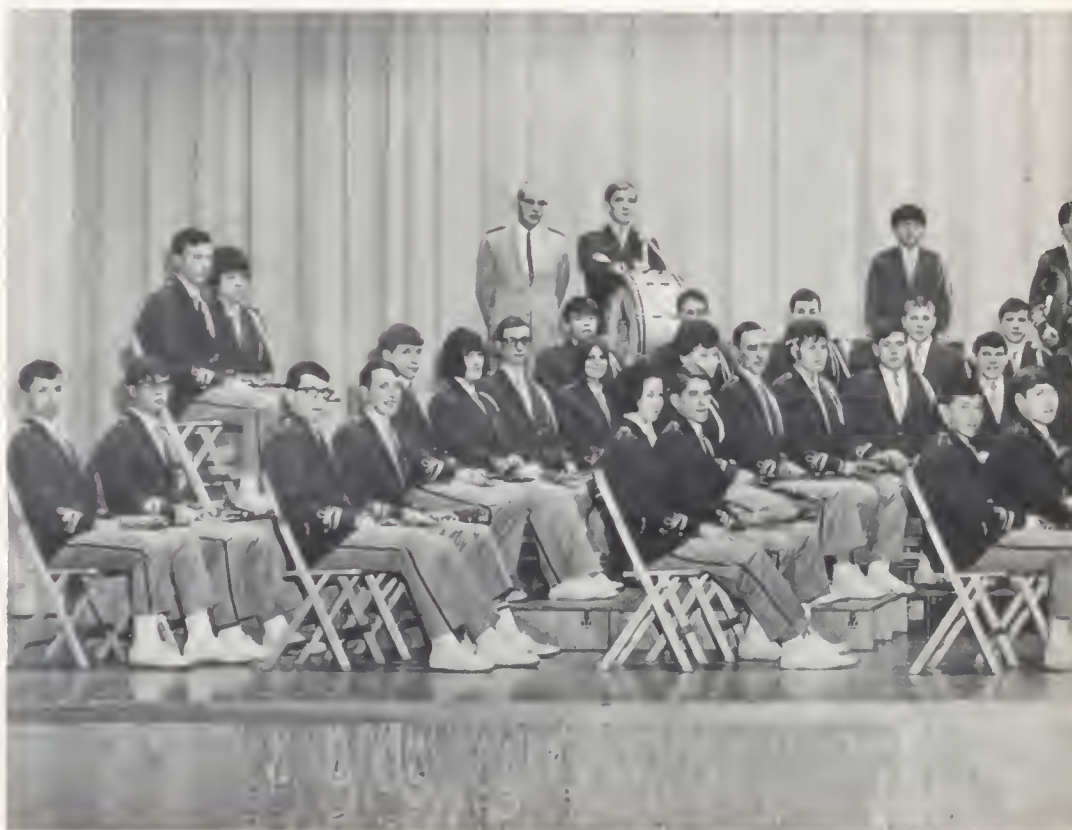

Two members of the Spirit Committee, Steve Thosath and Bill McGawan, hold the vanquished tiger above the cheerleaders Sue Stewart, Cathy Matters, Sue Brunner, Carol Dehner, Pat Forbes, Patty Jahnsan and Debbie Schach.

During the year the orchestra took part in a variety of concerts.

Performing with the band were the majorettes. Selling popcorn balls and candy canes gave them the needed money for uniforms. They established a constitution and a Majorette Clinic for next year's majorettes. Shown in front of the band, the majorettes are Jo Anderson, Lorna Homan and Cristi Irwin.

Bright scarlet uniforms and clashing cymbals were striking features of the Ferris band. This year they played at all football games and "home" basketball games. They gave concerts in January and May, and participated in a ratings contest. Some members of the band were accepted to take part in the All Northwest Music Contest, March 30 to April 1. In addition, they carried out the traditions of sponsoring the "Blue Moon" dance and marching in the Lilae Parade.

Music and drama go together. The orchestra played the musical script for "Finian's Rainbow." They also participated in the Christmas Concert Dec. 20 and the student body convocation.

Saxons sing out!

Each year Spokane's newest high school adds traditions. This year the Ferris choir began another with the unique and inspiring Christmas program. In the evening performance the scarlet-clad choristers passed down the aisles of the dimly lighted auditorium, each carrying a burning candle. As they gathered on the stage, the candles were placed on a tree. Songs were tied together by a narrator and students, portraying still life pictures for different Christmas scenes.

The choir sang in a variety of programs and concerts, including the Chorus and Orchestra Concert in March.

Other members of the choral department continued making appearances. The Canterbury Belles provided entertainment at the Cheerleader's Clinic, a teacher's conference and various church groups. The girls also participated in a Solo and Ensemble Contest in the spring.

A crock of gold, a leprechaun, and three wishes all were a part of this year's musical, Finian's Rainbow, presented in November. The story began as Finian McLonergan (Keith Blowers) and his daughter, Sharon (Valerie Clausen) came to America from Ireland with a crock of gold stolen from a leprechaun, Og (Dave Paulson). Finian planned to plant the gold near Fort Knox because he believed it would grow there. Finian and Sharon bought land in Rainbow Valley, where they buried the gold crock. Og, the leprechaun, followed them, but turned mortal because his crock of gold had been stolen.

Others in the play were Jim Franklin, as the hero; Jan Hines, as his sister; and Dan Bard, as the senator. Of course, the play ended happily.

A tuneful melody, played by Muriel Lafton, accompanied Susan (Jan Hines) in her dance of the golden crock.

The charus sang their native songs as the sharecrappers bundled tobacco leaves.

"Finian's" fascinates Ferris.

After much singing and doncing, Finian's Roibow ended romantically, with Suson (Jon Hines) marrying Og the Leprechoun (Dave Paulson) ond Shoron (Volerie Clousen) marrying the hero, Woody (Jim Fronklin).

Mony long hours were spent practicing for the production of Finian's Rainbow.

Anxious minutes before the performance were filled with creative honds hurriedly opplying make-up to Jan Dagmon.

Thespians, under the direction of Miss Lillian Brown have been very active this year. Throughout the summer they put on plays (at schools) for Operation Headstart, which is sponsored by the Federal Government. Operation Headstart is designed to help children five and six years old, from poverty stricken families, prepare to enter school.

They put on plays and sold candy to make money to pay for the royalties on plays, for properties, and for trips to the State and National Thespian Conference.

Five one-act plays were presented in February. They were cast and directed by Thespian members. "The Mystery of Mouldy Manor" was presented for students in a convocation early in the year.

The Boys' Drill Team, organized in the fall by Mr. Herb Watson, has practiced all year, three times a week, at 7:10 in the morning and occasionally even on Saturdays. In the hands of these members are broomsticks, substituting for spears which, with the uniforms, were purchased in the spring.

Many long hours were spent planning pictures and copy to fit layouts. Deadlines were met with the help of editors Becky Eaton and Camille Erickson and advisor Miss Patricia Ruder.

Much hard work and time go into the production of the Saxon Chronicles. The student staff spends many hours working on copy that will be interesting to its readers. News articles, editorials, features and sports give variety to pages. Subscriptions and advertising provide the financial support for the paper. Hard-hitting Saxon defense hold fast Pirate backs.

The Saxon football team, led by all-city back Joel Lassman, had a disappointing win-loss record this season. The team did have its bright moments however, and gave some of the toughest teams in the city a real fight. Saxon gridders also did much to generate school spirit this fall.

This year Ferris had its first opportunity to play in the annual Shrine Game. After visiting the hospital for crippled children the team realized the part they were playing in the lives of these children.

A new system for recognizing those players who put forth individual efforts was started in which these outstanding players received a red helmet. Members winning red helmets were: Andy Lofton, Kirk Smith, Paul Dibblee, Dennis Miller, Everett Coulter, Rick Graff and Ron Keezer.

The Pat Miller Inspirational Award was won by two players this year, Dennis Miller and Kirk Smith. The Most Improved Player Award went to Ron Keezer. Rick Graff was selected captain for next year.

If you think you're beaten you are.
 If you think you dare not you won't.
 If you like to win but don't think you can
 It's almost a cinch you won't.

If you think you'll lose you're lost.
 For out in the world you'll find
 Success begins with a fellow's will,
 It's all in a state of mind.

Life's battles don't always go
 To the stronger or faster man,
 But sooner or later the man who wins
 Is the fellow who thinks he can.

Saxon hoopers played impressive basketball this season and when at their strongest, beat some of the best teams in the city league. Wins over L.C., Rogers and University were high points during the season.

Led by Marc Wallace, they used a fast offense and a tight defense to paralyze their opponents.

Even though blessed with many big men, shorter players such as Lloyd Baker, Andy Lofton and Bruce Cramwell stole the show (and the ball) many times this season.

Team victories in the first five games of the season brought out an air of school spirit unmatched before at Ferris.

Wrestlers and gymnasts express desire, talent, spirit.

1967 was truly a great year for two of Ferris' finest athletic teams: wrestling and gymnastics. Both sports are very demanding of the participants and all honors received are well deserved. Wrestling is a sport that requires great strength and stamina, where as, gymnastics requires strength, agility and flexibility. Both teams finished third in league standings.

Above Dan Stark proves himself an outstanding wrestler. Below Ron Keezer demonstrates his abilities as a gymnast. These are Saxon teams we can really be proud of for serving our school to the best of their abilities.

Tracksters show strength,

Ferris shot put team, the "Big Six" include: Wayne Brothers, Joel Lassman, Rick Graff, Shelly Schultz, Larry Nall, Larry Hone.

Ferris' 1967 field and track team were strong competitors for the All-City Championship. With the return of seasoned veterans in all events Ferris drove to better their 1966 six wins and one loss record. Head coach Herman Caviness viewed the team as one with the potential to go all the way. When asked in what areas team strength lies, Mr. Caviness replied, "The shotput team is about our strongest point. We have moderate strength in distance, sprints, high jump, pole vault and broad jump."

This year Ferris and Lewis and Clark shared Hartfield as home field since the Ferris "orphans" as of yet do not have a finished track. Dual meets at Rogers and Shadle Park highlight the season as tracksters battled for first place.

Teams strive for baseball wins.

This year's varsity baseball team took to the diamond early in March with eight returning lettermen. Coach Robert Buckhart placed his confidence for the winning pitches in Dick Rousseau, Kim Clark and Steve Lund. Assuming responsibility of catcher was Mike Schmidt. Outfield was handled by Mark Taylor, Bob Hawkins, Bill Miller, Mike White and Pat Stemm. Infield positions were played by Bruce Cromwell, John Diffenbacher, Gary Greenslitt, Bill Quinn and Truman Cantrell. Throughout the 1967 baseball season the Saxons did well in City League Baseball. The B squad and frosh teams, coached by Mr. William Lowther and Mr. Lee Grichuhin, also displayed a fine potential in all of their baseball games.

The team is coached by Mrs. Bossart.

Boasting last spring's record of eight wins and no losses as evidence of ability, the boys' tennis team defended the city championship this spring. Coach Leonard Hunt was optimistic about this season's record.

"Practice makes (almost) perfect." Under the direction of Mr. Larry Reid, the fall team of boys' golf came through with a five win--one loss standing. Encouraged by this fall record as evidence of outstanding ability, the team looked forward to a successful season under Coach Herbert Watson.

Enthusiastic voices echo through halls.

Enthusiastic voices of senior cheerleaders, Cathy Matters and Debbie Schoch, echo down the hall of the 400 building during a pre-game rally. Several pep convocations and rallies were held before games but none were as loud or brought out the school spirit of seniors and underclassmen alike, as did this rally before the Ferris--Lewis and Clark football game. Pep activities included skits by the cheerleaders and the lettermen, cheering contests between the four classes, and chants and songs. Lettermen and cheerleaders were the organizers throughout the year.

A moment of humor is caught amidst the work of the newspaper staff.

Enjoyment found in work.

Senior Studio students are those who have a deep interest in art and are willing to spend their Independent Study time working on projects. They are expected to turn in several projects of their own choosing each quarter. Each student is to present a one-man art show in the spring, either on or off campus. They meet weekly with their advisors, Mr. Varty and Mr. Zollars. FRONT ROW: Diane White, Ann Bacon, Shirley Stier, Liz Craven, Lesley Johnson, and Bill Elston. Graduation marks the beginning.

New seniors, Carol Mockridge and Francis Meidling, can't believe their eyes!
"An elevator for everyone?"

On Sunday, June 4, Ferris seniors donned the scarlet robes and mortar boards and marched down the aisle to receive their diploma from Mr. Blauert. It was graduation day, 1967. Graduation brings an old way of life to an end, and a new world begins. Graduates will no longer be mere students, but responsible adults making their way in an adult world. No one will be watching over them or telling them what to do. Whether they go on to college, to a job, into the service or making a home, they will be on their own and expected to show the world they are ready for it.

Synonymous with graduation was the senior prom-- "Hawaiian Paradise." It was held on May 26 at the Fort George Wright Commons. Couples danced away the night in a paradise atmosphere. Co-chairmen of the prom were Kristic Flinders and Rich Bennion. Committee chairmen included Lorraine Chapman and Sharon Rudd, decorations; Marge Herbert and Joel Lassman, tickets; Bernie O'Brien refreshments; Cathy Matters, chaperone; Shelly Garcca and Terrie Jones, pictures; Robin Lindley and Andy James, publicity and Doug Vawter, music.

A burst of energy escaped as Drexel Cox, Keith Blowers and Gerry Mikel expressed their hoppy feelings after graduation.

"Hawaiian Paradise"

Anne Beatty, Nancy Westlund, Cheri Eubanks, Chris Peterson, Lesley Johnson, Steffi Sivertson, John Colgren and Bill Funnell kept busy maintaining 3.9 and above grade point averages. Some think that the last year of high school is the easiest, but seniors know better. It was busy, as a final effort was exerted to bring up the seventh semester grades in an attempt to improve grade point averages. Long, brain exhausting college board tests were taken that made upperclassmen stop to shift through the knowledge collected during the past twelve years. There were lengthy college application forms to fill out but, only after much contemplation and hard decisions between colleges had been made. There were fees to pay and deadlines to meet. Finally the class of 1967 received their long-awaited diplomas.

Life is never dull

Responsible for keeping life interesting in the senior class were the officers: president, Steve Thasath; vice-president, Paul Dibble; secretary, June Olsen; treasurer, Wendy Gookstetter.

I pledge...

Friends chat.

Chemistry Large Group can be dubious at times.

for seniors.

A day in the life of a senior is busy and varied. Lory McLellan is a typical student who attends her last classes in high school. This is a preparation for the future in whatever occupation she chooses.

During English seminar, Lory McLellan takes her turn in a discussion on "Hamlet."

Lunch means 30 minutes of friends and relaxation.

Lory ponders over college catalogues.

Shuffling of books and brief good-bys end another school day.

Lilac royalty is selected.

FERRIS' LILAC FESTIVAL FINALISTS AND THEIR ESCORTS. Each senior homeroom nominated five girls. From these girls the Ferris student body picked the top finalists. These 10 girls were then judged by 11 area businessmen at a night program March 20. Mr. Chuck Heatan from KHQ acted as MC. ROW 1: Gail McLaughlin, June Olson, Jan Hines, Jan Dagman, Liz Craven, Kathy Oiland, Carol Dehner, Patty Jahson, Wendy Gookstetter, Pat Farbes. ROW 2: Llayd Baker, Daug Vawter, Jael Lassman, Sheldon Schultz, Mark Narman, Marc Wallace, Jerry Crick, Rick Ferrell, Steve Thasath, Rich Henry.

THE BIG MOMENT came when Mr. Miller and former Ferris princess Susan Harris picked June Olson from the line of finalists.

PRINCESS JUNE. Crowning June is Mr. Arthur Blauert and Susan Harris. This was the final step of the 1967 Ferris Lilac judging.

Compliments of Harriot Nelson Cowling

Get them while they last.

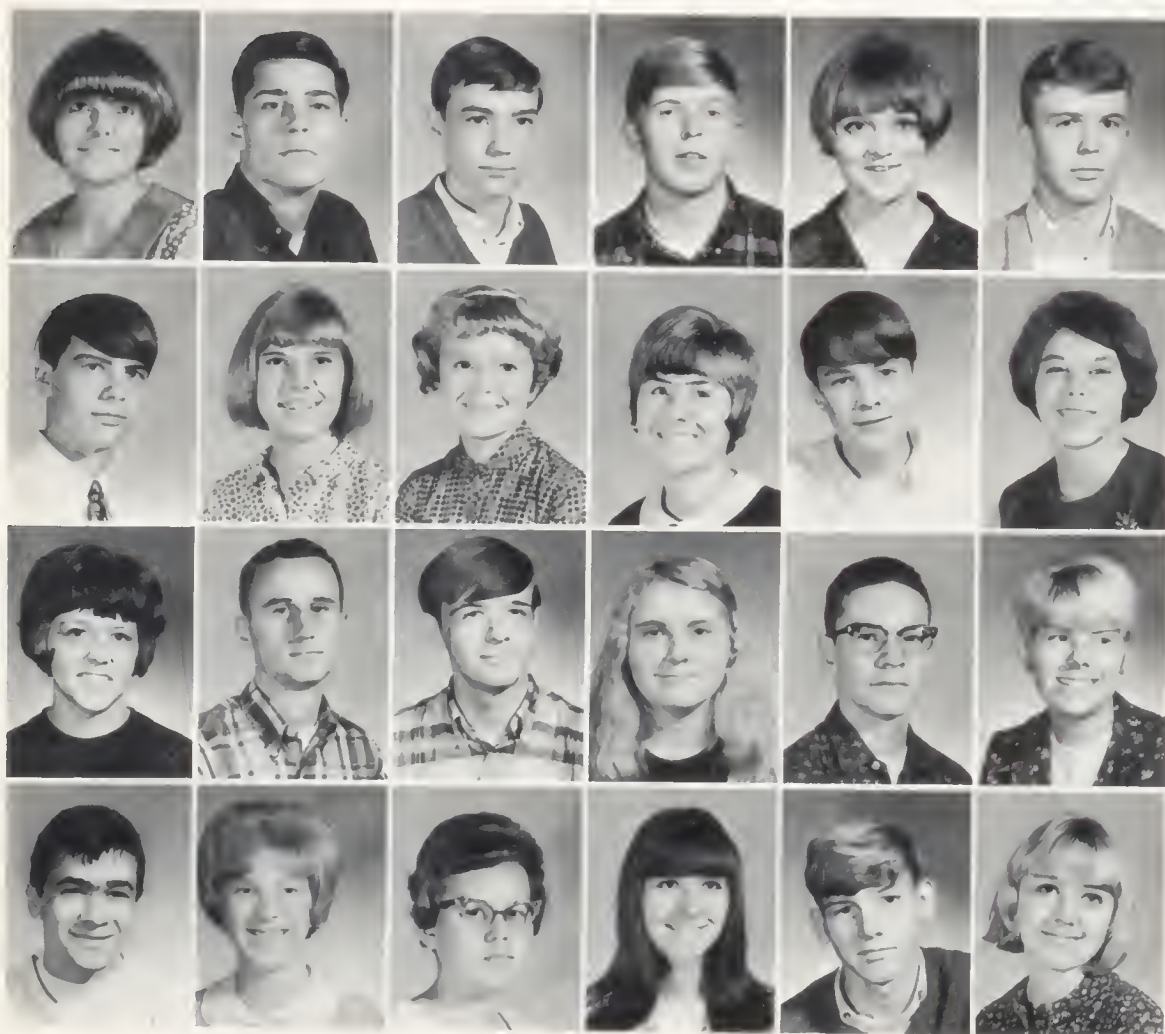

These are the cries of anxious juniors selling pickles for the Junior Class.

A winning ticket!

Turkey Trot is an annual event held by the track team. A girl from each class is chosen to sell tickets at 25 cents each with proceeds going to the track team. People who enter run in a race. The winner receives a turkey. The race was held on the Ferris field and there were 12 entrants. Nancy Krakenburg, junior, was the queen after selling 248 tickets. Competing again this year, Mike Wright won another first.

Students seek summer jobs.

"During the summer a few Ferris students find it necessary to take employment in off beat places. Here we see two students at their summer job in 'Greenwich Village.' They worked in a well known espresso house and were known as the 'Rejected.' We are sorry, but we cannot give the name of the espresso house for fear that the innocent may lose their summer job for next year."

Hard work, memorable ending.

Junior class officers Rick Goodman, vice president; Karl Olsen, president; Vicki Robinson, secretary and Deanna Honegger, treasurer, had a busy year. The junior class held a car wash, bake sale, and pickle sale. Other activities presented were the junior prom and junior convocation which are annual highlights. They also planned a tug-of-war against the senior class.

Juniors Tom Tomlinson and Marcia Ross were general co-chairmen. Jim Castino and Shelby Gates were co-chairmen for the script committee for the junior convocation.

Committee chairmen heading the 1967 Junior Prom "Here, There and Everywhere" include- ROW 1: Iris Klobusicky, Laurie Huber, Wendy Mills and Marsha Williams. ROW 2: Sue Brunner, Tricia Dibblee and Pam Hagsett. ROW 3: Bill Myhre, Betty Black, Nancy Rowand, Peggy Warth and Roger Feldman. General co-chairmen were Sue Brunner and Bill Myhre.

'Wizard of Id'

"Serf's up."

"Take the garbage out-now."

"No--like this."

Junior Convocation was presented on May 3, 1967. The main characters were the King, Rodney, the Wizard, Blanch, Gwen and Our Hero--the Lone Haranger, whose capture was the main plot. The Wizard invented a magic cream to rid himself of his wife, Blanch, and make Gwen, a beautiful young maiden, fall for him. Naturally the name of the cream was Blanch-be-gone---Gwen-come-on. The Wizard was foiled and Gwen was attracted to the Lone Haranger. Although the Lone Haranger was finally caught we are still not sure whether or not the King is a fink.

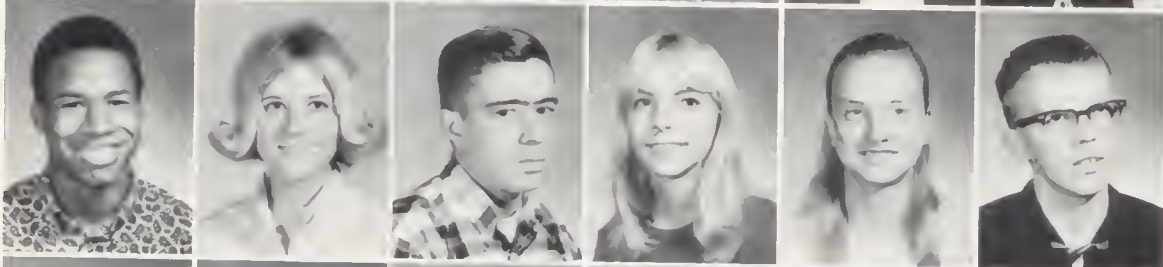

A misty moonlit night--sidewalk cafes--exquisite international decor, all set the scene for the 1967 Junior Prom, "Here, There and Everywhere," which was held in the Georgia Room of the Spokane Club.

The great race.

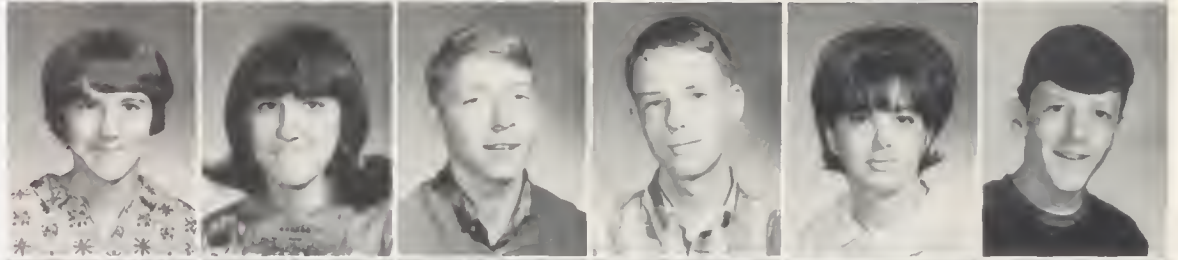

It's hard to figure out if this group of sophomores will make it to their next class or not. Their eventual destination seems to be foreshadowed by the problem of staying in their positions. Maybe it's a race? We could have used some contestants like these in the Turkey Trot! Or maybe the track team?

Crowd participation reached on all time high this year. This group of sophomore girls have much to do with it too. Not only do they sit "up front" in a group in uniform, but their performances in the skilled marching unit contribute much to the rally section.

A salute is given to the football players in the class of 1969. Mr. Lowther looks as if he would salute them too, if he could put his stick down long enough! He seems to be surrounded. Speak softly? Well, maybe sometimes!

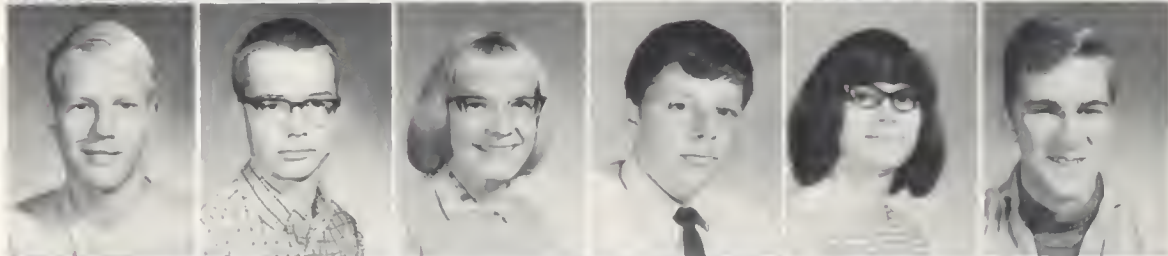

Credit where credit is due.

Have you ever tried to study. . .

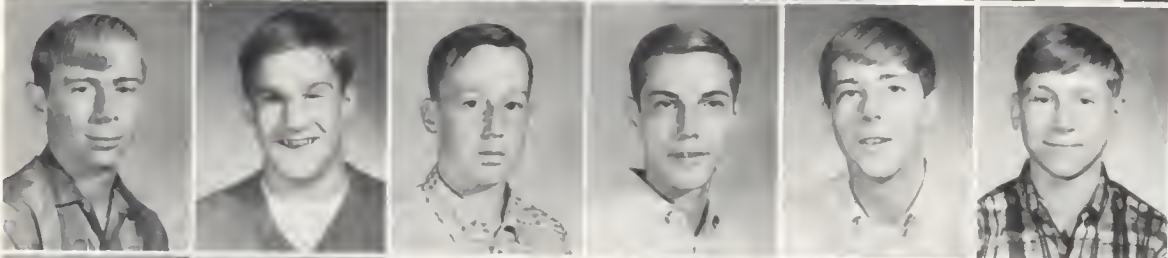

Have you ever tried to study when someone keeps telling you to smile? This seems to be the problem mirrored in these two students faces. It appears that once these sophomores settle down to study they don't appreciate the interruption, but concede to let us picture them busily working in the library.

Near the center of this picture, Kris Meckstroth holds a trophy; the end result of much hard work by Mr. Watson and his homeroom #426. These students brought in hundreds of paperback books and jumped ahead of all other homerooms to win the paperback book drive for 1966.

A reward worth the effort.

Freshmen
 enjoy
 elective subjects.

Cooking is just one of the many electives chosen by the students. Linda Wagner and Sally Tuttle display their talents.

It's just one of those things.

Oops! Ga the books. Mary Jensen finds dropping her books only one of the problems faced by all freshmen.

[The page contains extremely faint and illegible text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the document. No specific content can be transcribed.]

The background is a complex, abstract composition of overlapping geometric shapes. It features a palette of bright red and a muted grey. The shapes include squares, rectangles, triangles, and lines, some of which are layered to create a three-dimensional effect. The overall composition is dense and rhythmic, with the text elements integrated into the geometric patterns.

All's well that ends well!

Well, look who's here girls----corns ond all.

Oh, nothing could be finer...

You need o mon-sized kleenex!

Red rover, red rover, send somebody over...

And I even passed parallel parking!

GOOD-BYE AND CONGRATULATIONS

-- to the Seniors of 1967

HELLO AND BEST WISHES

-- to the Seniors of 1968

THE CRESCENT

PHOTOGRAPH STUDIO

Invites you the seniors of 1968 to take advantage of our SPECIAL SUMMER PRICES.

- 1 - 8 x 10
- 2 - 5 x 7
- 6 - Friendship Wallet Size

P.S. A photograph is a part of forever. . . and we take very, very seriously our responsibility of making your photograph.

PARDON US,

We'd like to depart just once from the usual messages we print in our advertising space. Instead of talk about the utility service we supply, may we speak briefly of our sincere interest in the students and young people of this area.

Time passes rapidly and you all move from the learning to the doing stage. The community and the nation will depend on you for much--you are the future.

Congratulations, and best wishes from the men and women of

WASHINGTON WATER POWER COMPANY
