

Ferris Students to Hear City Mayor Candidates

Ferris students and their parents will have an opportunity to meet and hear Spokane's mayoral candidates, Mr. David Rodgers and Mr. Ralph Rosenberry, in two separate 45 minute convocations in the auditorium, today.

Both candidates will appear at 9:00 a.m. and at 11:15 a.m. Each is scheduled to deliver a speech followed by a question and answer period moderated by Mrs. J. Vennema, of the League of Women Voters.

The convocations are under joint sponsorship of Ferris High School and the Voters' Service of the League of Women Voters. It is open to all senior World Problems, Economics and Government students and other students who have resource time during these modules. Interested parents are also welcome.

The program is actually a follow-up for students who attended the League of Voters' Candidates' Fair, which was held a month ago at the Davenport Hotel for the purpose of introducing all of Spokane's position candidates to the public. Many P.E.G. students attended this fair.

P.E. Focal Point Of P.T.A. Meet

The first P.T.A. meeting of this school year is set for Tuesday. The purpose of the 7:30 p.m. meeting is the introduction of the Ferris P.T.A. to new parents, Mr. Blauert, principal, said.

The program, to be presented in the Ferris auditorium, will focus on the Physical Education Department. Mr. Richard Guthrie, who is in charge of the program, will introduce the new coaches of the teams and acquaint parents with the P.E. and health programs.

President of the Parent-Teacher Association, Ralph Glass, will preside over the meeting. Business discussed will be committee reports with a discussion of "Knights in Saxony," an annual P.T.A. money raising program to be presented this spring. Membership will be stressed. There will be a booth for parents new to Ferris to join the organization. Mr. R. G. Oakley is the membership chairman.

"Oliver" Cast In Rehearsal

This year's annual musical, presented with the cooperation of the Art, Drama and Music Departments, is "Oliver," adapted from Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist," with music and lyrics by Lionel Bart. The production, which concerns a boy's life in Old England, starts on November 15 and runs through the 16 and 17.

Although the play has parts, such as chorus and small speaking parts, the lead players include Judy Boyce and Marsha Ross, double cast as Oliver; Tyrus Tenold as Artful Dodger; Carol Schmelzer as Nancy; Victor Wold as Mr. Bumble, and Carol Hastings as Mrs. Corney. Others include Dave Paulson as Mr. Sowerberry and Janice Johnson as Mrs. Sowerberry.

The musical is being presented under the direction of Miss Brown, drama, with the help of Mr. Hagen, music; Mr. Summers, orchestra; Mrs. Shelby, choreography; Mr. Mattus, technical direction, and Mr. Varty and Mr. Zollars, art and stage design.

This musical is a mixture of drama and humor for all types of audiences.

Girls Win Trophy Though Competition Stiff

Sixty-two cars manned by Ferris students and faculty made their way around the Moran Prairie area in the Key Club Car Rally.

It began when car no. 1 pulled out of the school parking lot at 9 a.m. amidst a slight drizzle. When the last car arrived back at school that afternoon, Jodi Johnson, driver, and Kathy Kendall, navigator, had won first place.

The girls drove the course without a watch. The trophies they won are theirs to keep. They are donated by the members of the Key Club.

Second place went to Bruce Goldstein, driver, and Rogers student Claudia Bermin, navigator. Third was Wayne Heath, driver, and Dave Harton, navigator.

Each car was given a safety check before starting. A sticker certifying this inspection was given each car in the rally. Possibly because of this safety check, there were no casualties other than a lost muffler and a ditched car.

The course, over varying types of roads, was meant to be driven in one and one-half hours, although

Boys Urged To Consider Military Life

Senior boys! There's no time to hesitate. If you are at all interested in a military career, now is the time to act. Navy, Army, and Air Force Academies offer some of the finest scholarships that schools have to offer today. Mr. Anderson, Dean of Students, asks those who are interested in any phase of the military to contact him. Mr. Anderson is a member of the board which selects applicants for admission to the academies and would like to help any Ferris boy to prepare for the board meetings.

October 31 has been set aside as a visitation day for representatives from the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps. They will be on hand to inform senior boys of the advantages of the NROTC program. Also, they will be willing to answer any questions about requirements and admissions to the program.

Representative Tom Foley from the 5th Congressional District would like all high school students to be aware of the advantages of all the Cadet programs and what they may offer.

Those interested should contact Mr. Anderson in the Dean of Students' office. Information will be posted in the bulletin concerning the room and the time for the visitation.

Miller to Lead Tour; Ambassadors Sought

The summer of 1968 will be the sixth year that organized groups of high school students will travel through Europe as People-to-People High School Student Ambassadors.

Mr. Ron Miller, social studies area leader, has been appointed teacher-leader for the 1968 Ferris program.

People-to-People was started in 1956 by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. His aim was a program of communication between Americans and the citizens of other lands to establish lasting two-way relationships from which international friendship and understanding could grow. In 1963 the program was opened to high school students. Previously it had been only for adults.

Last summer seven Ferris students served as program ambassadors. They were Linda Austin, Shelby Gates, Bob Merck, Jim Stejer, Tyrus Tenold, Debbie Wakeley, and Dawn Wilcox. They visited schools in session and were able to talk to students in the different countries. They also had an opportunity to participate with young people in social activities and sports. During that time, they visited Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Austria, France, Belgium and England.

The Ferris students traveled by chartered bus with a courier and a driver for six weeks around Europe, staying in hotels as well as private homes.

This year, student ambassadors will have an all-air program to Lisbon, Madrid, Rome, Athens, Bucharest, Vienna, Paris, London, with a guide and driver waiting for them at each city.

The ambassadors will live with families, spending four or five days at each home. The home stays will be in Rome, Vienna and London.

Students desiring information about the program are urged to contact Mr. Miller, Mr. Louderback, last year's leader, or any of the former Ferris ambassadors.

Court Sponsors "Walk on Wild Side"

The newest thing since the Gator will be held Friday, October 27, in the cafeteria. Once again the Court of Carmine does it by presenting "Walk On The Wild Side."

The Glass Menagerie will supply the music. The dance will be held from 8 to 11 p.m.

Tom Stark, general chairman of this year's dance, is hopeful that it will be even better than last year's. Helping Tom with the work are Craig Adkinson, tickets; Dave Mummey, decorations; Bob Parr, clean-up and chaperones; and Bret Smith, band.

Dr. Ayars Greets Science Seminar; Olson, Stein Speak

Students from District 81 high schools were greeted by Dr. Albert Ayars, superintendent of schools, at the opening session of the Saturday Science Seminar and Research Training Program.

He noted the opportunities available to youth of today, among them the chance to participate in this type of science program. Following Dr. Ayars, Mr. Louderback, Ferris science coordinator, congratulated Mr. Finley, director of the program, and students, for their fine work and participation.

Later on in the program, Mr. Finley introduced Dr. Ed Olson of the Eric Johnston Science Center of Whitworth College. Dr. Olson discussed what science was and showed slides of the center's new facilities. Dr. Olson introduced Dr. Howard Stein, also of the Eric Johnston Science Center, who spoke of a problem on which they are interested in working.

The subject, known as the "Hairy Problem," has to do with the difference in molecules within the cells of organisms. Dr. Stein invited any students interested to an open house at the Center.

Future dates for Saturday Science Seminar meetings are October 28, and November 4. Last Saturday's seminar convened at the Northwest Regional Science Teachers' Conference at the Davenport Hotel to view exhibits and listen to lectures on scientific subjects.

On October 28, Mr. Kelly Carpenter of School District No. 81 will lecture on space science.

On November 4, Father McNeil of Gonzaga University will lecture on the spectra distribution of daylight and its effects on plant growth.

Are Manners So Plebeian?

For generations parents have attempted to instill in their children care for others. Youngsters are taught to be polite from the time they first acknowledge people. Manners have always been a distinction of cultured people.

In all the hustle and hubbub of crowded halls manners seem to have been completely forgotten. Students bump in the hall. Rather than apologetic, they are insulted. Someone knocks a tray to the floor in the cafeteria and goes on his way, either unseeing or ignoring what he has done. A tardy student pushes his way past rows of knees to find his seat in large group. Doors are slammed in people's faces, and books are loudly knocked to the floor.

Is chivalry dead? Girls stand on the swaying buses to and from school, clinging to what they can to keep from falling down. If offering a seat is impractical, the least a gentleman can do is offer to hold the lady's books. Nothing is more flattering to a girl than having a door held for her, yet most guys barge through as if they were running a race. When books fall to the ground, it is often the girl who must stoop to pick them up.

After school the parking lot dissolves into mass chaos. Everyone is rushing to be the "firstest with the mostest." Most people are inconsiderate of the wishes of others. The right of way is given to neither driver nor pedestrian.

As we step into the adult world, manners will be of prime importance. We will not succeed unless we are considerate of others wants.

But manners must be learned by practice. They cannot be acquired overnight. If we don't know them when we need them, we will be awkward and confused.

Now, as we are educationally preparing ourselves for adult life, we must also prepare ourselves with manners. We must practice them now so that they will become automatic. —DT

Be Honest With Yourself

Are you unsure of yourself? Are you aware of your shortcomings, yet unaware of how to solve them? Maybe you are not being honest with yourself and you're not able to cope with all your problems.

Such problems may arise from home, school, friends, work, anything that has to do with the life that you lead.

Think about it, haven't you often blamed all your troubles on someone else when it was your fault all the time? Be honest with yourself! The next time, before you blow up, analyze the situation at hand. Decide "honestly" whether it really was the other person's fault or your own. Don't act rashly. Think about what you do, be honest with yourself. —GK

Rrrrr! It's 6:30 in the morning and the alarm is screaming it's head off. It's up and at 'em for me. I get out of bed, stretch, yawn, and drop back in again. It's so warm and cozy, but I have to get up and trudge off to another day at Ferris High School.

After breakfast, I run down the block to catch the bus. This run and the cold morning air should be enough to wake me up. But once on the bus, quiet settles over the air. Everyone settles back into their seat and ZZZZZ!

I pass the time before home room in a daze. The people I notice I call a feeble "hi" to. Those I don't notice through half opened eyes will just have to understand.

During extended homeroom the teacher announces a surprise con. Everyone thinks, "Oh no, but I need the study time!" Once at the con, I realized that this one was new and unique. It concerned friendliness, and by the end — POW! — the spirit had hit me. I came out of my daze and noticed the people around me. From then on, the big word was HI!

All during the day, people radiated friendliness. Imagine the feeling I got when even total strangers spoke to me. I wanted to be friendly to everybody.

Friendliness is catching. But so is snobbery. Friendliness reigned for one day. But as people were rude, as people ignored each other, the cold feeling came back. People went back to being snobs.

That short glimpse of friendliness was really great!

ASB Activities Numerous

The Ferris' Cafeteria will soon have a new addition. A sleek, modern apple machine will vend apples before and after lunch to hungry Saxons anxious to keep the doctor away. Though the machine is being leased, 10 percent of the profit will go to the student body treasury. Unfortunately, if apple cores are strewn from the science building to the tennis court, the machine will be removed. Remember, every litter bit hurts!

Council meetings have been held Wednesday mornings at 7:30. Because of this, attendance has been low. Meetings are now scheduled for Wednesday, from 10:45 to 11:15, in the band room. Attendance and participation in meetings is expected to increase.

The officers recently met the ASB officers of Lewis and Clark High School. It was decided that the annual Inaugural Ball will be

Colorful Exeter Planned for '68

The 1968 "Exeter" staff is offering a larger yearbook, more color and a summer supplement. A summer supplement is an additional number of pages sent to subscribers in the fall. This is composed of material which could not be put in the main yearbook because of a time element. The yearbook must be completed by the first of April in order to be printed by the end of May. Names printed on the cover are optional at a cost of $1.

Last year's "Exeter" received a first class rating. The '68 "Exeter" will be one students won't want to miss.

Saxon Senior Hi-lighters

Betty Black

Who's the girl in the rickety little blue VW? That's Betty Black, whizzing by on her way to some committee meeting.

Saxon Supporter

Betty joined Valkyrs and sports the red uniform every Friday. She supports her team at each game, too. Before joining the marching unit, she was a member of the band. She has played in the orchestra for several Ferris musicals.

Betty has been active in the League of Dresden as a courtesy girl. Last year she was chairman of the refreshments committee for the Mother-Daughter Tea.

Supporting her junior class, Betty was a member of the council and took part in the Junior con. She was chairman of the chaperones committee for the Junior prom.

Outstanding Junior Girl

With all these activities considered, Betty was named outstanding Junior girl from Ferris by the Masons.

Betty is active as a senior at Ferris, too. She is Associated Student Body Historian.

Undecided about her future, she is determined to be a success at whatever she tries. And she probably will.

Doug Baker

He's a leader, a laughter and a lover of submarine sandwiches; a student, a stand-out and definitely a "hi-lighter" of his class. He's senior Doug Baker.

Doug really works at school activities. His goal is to make Ferris High School the very best.

ASB Representative

Last year Doug was a representative to the Court of Carmine. He was more active as a member of the Associated Student Council. He is chairman of a committee to establish an honor society at Ferris.

As a senior, Doug is treasurer of Key Club. He also holds the office of vice-president of the Spirit Committee. Doug is helping the freshmen to become more active. He is a senior advisor to their class.

Active in his church youth group, Doug counseled for a month this summer at Camp Spalding on Davis Lake. He is now moderator of his youth group.

Doug worked on a farm when he wasn't at a camp. He did the haying. When asked about it, he will answer, "It almost killed me."

In his near future, Doug plans to attend Whitworth and major in social science.

Ferris Forum

"Saxon Chronicles" will soon be running the "Ferris Forum." This will be a column based on student letters to the editor. It is a chance for students to express their opinions on world, local, and school problems.

After writing the letter, please put it in the "Forum" box on the first floor of the 400 building. Though letters, if the student wishes, may be printed anonymously, they must be accompanied by the name of the author.

held jointly with that school. This way, it may be held outside of school grounds. Each school will have one chairman for each committee who will act as co-chairmen for the dance. Committees will be limited in number of members. The dance will be semi-formal. It will be held in honor of the ASB officers of both schools.

The ASB is attempting to establish Ferris as a member of a National Honor Society. Students with excellent grades will receive recognition and scholarships. Doug Baker, chairman of this committee, has written for information and an application.

Roger Feldman is working on a plywood Saxon which will be mounted on the wall in the Field house.

Hunting Fever Hits Wandering Woodsmen

Opening of hunting season brought with it a mob of eager young woodsmen. When a "Saxon Chronicles" reporter asked "What do you like best about hunting season?" he got these answers:

Ken Krebs: "The best part about hunting season is getting ready for it."

Jeff Breckel: "Getting up at 4:30 in the morning, that's the best thing about it."

Steve Moss: "Losing your dog."
 Rick Graff: "Banking a jeep down the side of a mountain."

Dan Jones: "Tramping through the woods."

Gary Ayars: "The feeling of power over shooting birds, good practice for Vietnam too."

Pete Dix: "Dead birds."
 Tom Brandt: "Meat on the table."

Jeff Eng: "When you catch the big ones." That's fishing, Jeff, not hunting!

Jim Breeden: "Fowl play."
 Tom Adams: "Bright colored jackets."

Jim Lewis: "Using my sling shot."

Kim Anderson: "I don't hunt." You're really missing out Kim!

Rog Feldman: "Man, it's always hunting season, . . . Yeah!"

Faculty Footnotes

A familiar figure in the halls of the 400 Building is Mrs. Mabel McLaughlin who is the coordinator of humanities here at Ferris.

Mrs. McLaughlin grew up in Seattle and attended the University of Washington. She did her graduate work at the University of Washington, Eastern Washington State College and Whitworth.

She was head of the English department at North Central High School before coming to Ferris. Besides making coffee, her job here is to try to coordinate the Humanities with other areas such as art and music. Mrs. McLaughlin's goal this year is "to make the resource centers really mean something."

In her spare time, Mrs. McLaughlin enjoys gardening and reading historical fiction. She also tries to keep up with the con-

Fall Faculty Feast Feature Slides Skit

Are Mr. Finley and Mr. Wood really "All Wet?" Only the faculty knows. The annual Fall Faculty Get-together in the cafeteria was a get-acquainted dinner held to introduce the 22 new faculty members. All faculty members were invited to attend.

After dinner a short program was presented. Mr. Blauert introduced each new member. Mr. Ernest C. Gosnay was a guest speaker for the evening. He presented a slide program on English education taken while an exchange teacher in England. A skit, entitled "All Wet," starred Mr. Finley and Mr. Wood. They were backed by the science department. Singing at the dinner were the Canterbury Belles. Mr. Louderback was the dinner chairman.

Dr. Harbert Guest Speaker At Careers Club

Animals anyone? Doctor Harbert, a Spokane veterinarian, makes them his life work, as the Health Careers Club members learned at one of their meetings.

He began his talk by telling the history of the profession, then continued into the different branches. Good grades were listed in the requirement to get into a veterinary college. He mentioned a number of colleges in the west.

The jobs of a veterinarian vary and Dr. Harbert described many of them. He especially encouraged girls to enter this field of medicine.

Science Club Busy

New to Ferris this year is the Science Club, which promises to be an active organization. The club, which held its first meeting in early October, has already planned field trips and will sponsor the Ferris Science Fair. The purpose of these activities is to promote and develop interest in science.

Officers are Dave Day, president; Bob Cadruvi, vice-president; Teresa Hidlebaugh, secretary; Jane Hamilton, treasurer, and John Hart, historian. Mr. Wood is the club's advisor.

Any sophomore, junior, or senior with a B-average in science who would like to join should see Mr. Wood in room 301 or talk to one of the officers.

temporary authors and their works.

She had this to say about the school: "I think Ferris has wonderful possibilities once we get serious cooperation from the students."

Spirit Committee Supports Ferris During Year

On game days at school or at the games themselves, the boys wearing red and white T-shirts are supporting Ferris. It could be said it's a habit with them. They support our school by boosting school spirit.

During a recent Boy's Federation meeting Mr. Tom Wallace, the Boy's Federation's adviser, complimented the Committee on the job they are doing this year to promote student-body participation at football games.

So far this year they have sold tickets for the games and cooperated with the Charions on a dance, card sections, and a car wash.

Events planned for the Committee are game ticket sales and more card stunts.

Participation is the big thing in this organization.

Red Cross Club Markets Goodies

The purpose of the Red Cross Club bake sale, held at Owen's IGA store, was to earn money for Spokane's underprivileged.

Plans for the sale were completed by the newly elected officers of the Ferris club: Sue McDavis, president; Gail Sarchet, vice-president; Vicki Robinson, secretary; Wendy Warriok, treasurer; Jane Axelson, publicity; Judy Jacobson, Sgt. at Arms and Becky Persteiner, assistant. The bake sale was from 9 a.m. through 4 p.m.

When asked what the money would be used for, Sue said, "A lot of it is to be donated to the downtown chapter."

State's Colleges Represented Here

College Conference Day was held last week for all Ferris seniors. The purpose of this day was to introduce seniors to a variety of colleges.

Twenty-four colleges and junior colleges from Washington and Oregon sent representatives to speak to them. Each senior attended two conference sessions where the representatives from the various schools discussed a variety of college oriented subjects including courses offered, activities, and fees. At the end of each talk the speaker answered questions.

The Washington State Employment Service talked to those students who are not planning to attend college next next year.

Reseachers View Kiddy Lit Insurrection

Did you know that a revolution is going on in children's literature? Dick and Jane have finally been expelled from the first grade.

Mrs. Jean Anderson, developmental reading teacher at Ferris, has begun a program to find out what children want to read. She has made arrangements for fourteen Ferris students to travel to Edison Elementary School on Thursday afternoons to read to second grade students with reading problems.

The high school students will talk to the children, find out what they are interested in, and then write stories for the children which correspond with their interests. These stories will be printed in small illustrated booklets.

Candy Stripers Donate Hours

Candy Striping programs at both Deaconess and Sacred Heart Hospitals began October 14. Girls involved in these programs attended an orientation session to acquaint them with the duties which they will be performing.

The Candy Stripers are a part of the volunteer staff. They help the regular hospital staff with the easier jobs which do not require any formal education. The work involves the patients. They pass food trays, read to patients, and write letters for them.

Girls may join the program after they have reached freshman year in high school.

Thespians Meet

Thespians, Ferris' drama club under the supervision of Miss Lillian G. Brown, has many different and exciting activities planned. They meet every Monday morning at 7:30. The officers are: President, Tom Tomlinson; Vice-President, Carol Hastings; Secretary, Debbie DeChenne; Treasurer, Marsha Ross, and Clerk, Victor Wold.

They plan to produce a group of one-act plays, two full length plays plus a musical, and one children's theater. The club will produce a melodrama to raise money to send delegates to the State Thespian Convention in Yakima, November 10-11.

Ferris Students Design Lighting For SCT Opener

By Margaret Myhre

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," the first attraction of the 1967-68 Civic Theatre season, marked the grand opening of the new Spokane Civic Theatre, North 1020 Howard Street.

The unique and imaginative lighting, adding delightfully to the show, was designed by Ferris senior Tom Tomlinson. He was assisted by two other Ferris students, Jim Castino and Vic Wold. Nancy Krackenberg, also of Ferris, performed with the dancers.

Adapted from a book by Joseph Fields and Anita Loos, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" was directed by Mr. Stan Williams.

The play, which takes place during the Roaring 20's, stars Lorelei Lee, an ex-member of the Ziegfeld Follies, who was played by Sarann B. Daly.

Most of the play concerns the people Lorelei meets on the ship to Paris. Among these passengers are two handsome members of the Olympic team; Josephus Gage, who is out to ruin the button industry with zippers; Sir Francis Beekman and his wife, Lady Phyllis Beekman; and a pair of Philadelphians, Henry Spofford and his elderly mother, Mrs. Ella Spofford.

The month of October offers much in the way of entertainment for those who may be tired of doing the same thing.

Saxons on Streak; Drop Three Straight

Gonzaga 25 — Ferris 0

The Saxons were outgained by the Zag offense and failed to capitalize on many scoring opportunities in this game. Gonzaga jumped ahead 19-0 at the half and scored once more in a tight second half.

In the second half we fumbled away a scoring chance at the one yard line and sent another drive to the Gonzaga 16-yard line before their defense tightened up. Bill Poindexter and Wayne Sepolen carried for 48 yards each and Grant Dyke passed for 52.

We looked a lot better in this game than the score indicates and it is very possible that we will beat this team the second time around.

Shadle 26 — Ferris 0

Ferris had trouble moving the ball as they were held by Shadle Park's defense to six first downs. The Saxons were unable to penetrate the Shadle defense as the closest we were able to get to the end zone was the thirty yard line. Frank Doctor was the story on offense for Shadle as he outgained the entire Ferris squad by 17 yards. Rick Graff lead our effort by running for 38 yards and Grant Dyke passed for 49 yards. Karl Olsen got off several good punts for the Saxons and his average stood up as the second best in the city league for the day. The Saxons were hurt by penalties and

Netters Third

The boy's tennis team has completed another successful fall tennis season. The Saxons placed third in the nine team league, behind Shadle and Lewis and Clark High Schools, with a 6-2 record.

The team finished the season, crushing West Valley 5-2, nipping North Central 4-3, beating University 4-3, and clobbering Central Valley 6-1. The North Central, University, and Central Valley victories were accomplished without our number one netter, Al Singer, who is suffering from a tennis elbow.

Wednesday and Thursday Ferris was represented at the All-City Tournament. The Saxons sent two single players and two doubles teams. Though all the schools in the league competed the All-City competition does not effect the league standings. The purpose of the tournament was to determine individual champions.

Saxon Spotlight

By Mike O'Brien

It's been said in the past that the only football players that receive credit for their work are the backs. However, we would like to change this theory and give credit where credit is due to an outstanding Ferris lineman, Chuck Daiger.

Chuck has been participating in the Saxon sports program since he was a freshman. After playing B-squad football his sophomore year, Chuck made the jump to varsity when he was a junior and since then he has played first string center for our Ferris team.

It seems that Chuck has had as many or more injuries, than anyone else around our campus. Chuck has suffered from such mishaps as broken fingers, broken legs, dislocated shoulders, cracked ribs, and a broken sternum. He refuses to quit, however. He is always back in the lineup as soon as possible.

Hamblen Grade School had the honor of bringing Chuck into the athletic spotlight until he graduated to Sacajawea in the seventh grade. He was ASB vice-president at Sacajawea and currently at Ferris he is our Letterman's Club Treasurer. He is currently sitting out one of those "good old injuries" but we hope he will be back in the lineup as soon as possible.

B-Squad Gridders Tie Two, Lose One

Coaching the B-squad this year are Mr. William Lowther and Mr. Larry Weir. These two coaches are looking for a better season than last year. The size and weight of this year's team is average, compared with the player's of previous years. Their speed, however, is very good.

In their first three games, they have tied two and lost one. They tied Rogers 7-7 when the Saxon squad came from behind in the third quarter scoring their lone touchdown. They also tied their next game with Mead 14-14 when only the sophomores played. They lost their game with Central Valley 6-2, failing to score within the ten yard line with seconds left to play in the game.

Gary Trautman and Tom Koss quarterback the team offensively, while Mike Sweeney and Jack Nelson along with many other outstanding football players make up the defense.

Sprinters Finish Second in City

Ferris' cross-country team fell out of first place in the City Division of the league Wednesday as Rogers took the lead.

It was a bad day for Saxon sprinters. Tom Robinson, who had finished first in all previous meets, lost his position and Rogers pushed ahead to take the meet and the City title.

With an impressive 18-40 victory over the North Central Indians on October 11, and an 18-39 victory over Shadle Park the week before, the Saxons were looking for their best season ever.

In the meet with North Central as in most meets this year, the Saxon squad was led by many sophomores and juniors. Junior Tom Robinson led everyone in the North Central meet to take first place honors. Tom covered the course in 10 minutes 26 seconds. Second, third, and fourth places were taken by Saxons Ed Roff, Randy James, and Jerry Morton respectively.

THANKS A LOT

"Rogers, obviously not very fired-up by the prospect of beating the lowly Saxons was able to score just enough in the first three periods then coast in." This quote taken from Saturday morning's October 14 issue of "The Spokesman Review" showed little appreciation of a good job by the Saxons.

Golfers Take Second

The Saxon six came on strong at the end of the season to grab second place in the city league. The big six on the team are Mike O'Brien, Steve Solomon, Scott Gamelin, Bruce Cromwell, Jim Breeden and Dave Harton. Dick Bingham, Tom Moore, Bill Reser, Neil Dennie and Bruce Goldstein all received honorable mention from coach Herb Watson.

Ferris closed out the season by pulling out identical 10-2 smears over Rogers and North Central. Last Monday the big match with L.C. for second place came out in a Saxon victory by a close score of 6½ to 5½. Mike O'Brien was the Ferris medalist with a 37 followed by Cromwell and Solomon with scores of 39.

The fall golf tournament will be October 23 at Esmeralda golf course with the top four from each school, including the valley schools, participating. This, however, has no bearing on the city league standings.

Freshmen Win Tilt

Mr. Dave Morton is anticipating a good season for freshman football. Mr. Morton, coaching his second year with the frosh, has his team in excellent physical condition.

In their first game with Rogers, the Pirates were unable to make a first down against the frosh defense which was lead by John Devine. Ferris easily won the game 7 to 0.

"Offensively," Coach Morton reports, "the team is having a little trouble, but we have added two more players and it should look better soon." Good luck Frosh!
